

THE WORLD HEALTH ORGANISATION (WHO)

Aivaras Mišeikis,
Violeta Kamantauskienė (supervisor)
Kaunas University of Applied Sciences, Faculty of Medicine

Address: Pramonės avenue 20, Kaunas
Webpage: www.kaunokolegija.lt
E-mail: aivaras.mis190@go.kauko.lt
Phone: +370 605 32137
Research field: M 001 Medicine

Research purpose. The aim of the presentation is to present the World Health Organization (WHO).

Keywords: humanitarian help, The United Nations, The World Health Organization

Research Methodology. Analysis of scientific literature.

Results / Findings.

1. The WHO is an institution in the structure of United Nations, that seeks to establish a world-wide common healthcare system.
2. The WHO aims to establish health care for everyone, regardless of race, religion, political affiliation, beliefs, economic or social status, have the same exact rights to gain the highest possible level of health. The WHO plays a crucial role when fighting pandemics, initiates and provides humanitarian help to both sides during a war.

Originality / Practical implications. Awareness of the World Health Organization's structure, activities, and strategy gains importance in the context of the current situation of the Covid-19 pandemic and the Russo-Ukrainian war.